Saturday and Sunday

Yeshua approaches Jerusalem, arriving in Bethany six days before the passover. A woman at Simon the potter's/leper's house anoints him, and Yeshua says that she is "prepar[ing] me for burial" (Matthew 26:12).

Monday – Nisan 10, when the Passover lambs are selected.

Yeshua rides on a donkey into Jerusalem, fulfilling a prophecy (Zechariah 9:9). Yeshua visits the temple and then returns to Bethany. Yeshua's entry into Jerusalem presents him as king and as Israel's paschal lamb.

Tuesday

On the way from Bethany to Jerusalem, Yeshua curses an unfruitful fig tree (Matthew 21:19). He challenges the practice of selling in the temple. Some of religious leaders begin to plot against him. In the evening, Yeshua leaves Jerusalem, presumably returning to Bethany.

Yeshua reminds his followers that the way of faith is different from the way of the world.

Wednesday

Upon arriving at the Temple in Jerusalem, Yeshua's authority is questioned by the religious leaders. In the afternoon, Yeshua goes to the Mount of Olives. He teaches in parables and speaks about signs of the end of the age. He tells of destruction, wars, and persecution to come, but also of his return (Matthew 24:6). Yeshua predicts that in two days he would be executed at the time of the Passover. Judas plans the betrayal of Yeshua with the religious leaders.

Thursday – preparation day

sundown Thursday – beginning of passover / 'last supper'

after 'the last supper' Yeshua and his apostles go to Gethsemane

Yeshua is arrested. He is tried by Annas, then Caiaphas, then other religious leaders.

Friday – day of passover; trial and execution of Yeshua

Early in the morning, Yeshua is tried by the Sanhedrin, Pilate, Herod Antipas, and then Pilate again. He is tortured and beaten and led to Golgotha at 9:00 a.m. Yeshua dies at 3:00 p.m. "It is finished."

→ speedy entombment before sundown, the beginning of shabbat

Saturday – shabbat

Yeshua's body is in the tomb during the Sabbath. Pharisees employ a Roman guard (12-man unit) to keep watch over the tomb.

sundown Saturday – beginning of Sunday

Sunday – resurrection

Mary Magdalene and another Mary go to the tomb only to find that Yeshua is not there. A messenger (an angel) tells them that Yeshua has risen.
